Ohio's Bats: The Master Class

This program explores Ohio's bats and their importance to our ecosystems. Instructor Todd Cartner will share common and lesser-known facts, current bat research in Ohio, and the roles bats play in agriculture and human health. Learn about Ohio's bat species, their conservation status, the impacts of white-nose syndrome, and how conservation efforts—and you—can help support their recovery.

Speaker: Todd Cartner, Citizen Scientist, OCVN, Founder and Co-Owner of Discover Bats Ohio
